- Site seemed user friendly, thanks.
- This was a big help, thankyou.
- How do you find this information without web access, poor people do not have it. After loosing my job of 21 years, the cost of internet access is unreachable now.
- I think this is a great site. I just wish that there was more help for the people who are the working poor. Yeah we might be over the limit but that doesn't mean we don't sometimes need alittle help. Thanks!
- awesome site
- Thank you for this fast "Am I eligible" page. It gives me an idea of what I can do. I know right now there are a lot of us people who need assistance who are over the limit. It is sad to see that not always the system works. I know other people lie all the time.
- This is the third time I applied for badgercare, My review was due last month on the 31st which I DID send in and had it sent certified mail which your office received at 10:05am on the 29th which means my review was on time.This website is fine for filling out applications but we should be able to contact someone and get the right information. I tried calling the 289-6000 number for days and all I got was busy finally today I got though after trying for hrs.to be told I'm have 41 calls ahead of me.I only have a cell phone do you know how much money that would cost to wait???? So I am still waiting for answers to my questions that is why I tried to fill out a third application thinking it may go faster.This website needs BIG improvement.I need the Badgercare but I also need to work and can't afford to stay home to go for reviews when I could just sit at my computer and do it all on the website and get my all my questions answered without sitting and waiting to get though on the phone
- I appreciated the fact that I could go thru a "preliminary" questionnaire list. This way I found out that there was no sense wasting my time as well as yours. Very easy to follow. THanks.
- This was very helpful. Friends have told me about the program but I had very little REAL information.
- My only problem is about food stamps. I am sure that I am eligible -- your program states that I ok for $10/month -- who can live on that amount???
- I called the phone number for more information. Steve is sending me a brochure, but was not willing to discuss much more Robert
- Your website was "User Friendly" and I enjoyed how simple and easy it was. Now I know I am not elegible and will not go and waste my time and someone else's filling out forms.
- Thanks.

- Thank you for this service, it was very helpful.
- Thank you very much. I found it to be easy to use and informative. This site answered all of my questions.
- The site is very easy to use.
- I filled out the forms honestly and accurately. However I personally don't qualify for really any assistance because I live with my parents. This program bases its decision on household not individual needs. I am a 36 year old woman who lost her job, needed to move back home because I lost my apartment, and need help. I think it is unfair to look at the household income if it is not mine.
- A great help saved me going to an appointment.
- I found the information was very good but not what I needed. If someone could send me the info for the sec.8 rental asst. I would be very grateful.
- This was very helpful. Thank you
- this site is very helpful looking to move to wisconsin. illinois site is not nearly as clear and everything is separate very frustrating. we have insurance but kids and i have adhd meds and doctor/counseling plus one has aspergers and one has touretts so meds have expensive co pays.between appointments and trips back to get homework forgotten,phone calls for same or behavior due to aspergers& adhd(lack of ability to read social cues combine with impulse control)not much time for me to work outside home. just need help don't need state to pay all .If more people knew they can get help without dropping employers cover they would do so and more kids could have proper parent supervision and support. thank you sorry for bad typing 2 year old is helping me
- You need to include a "printer friendly" version of the informational sheets that are able to be printed- it wastes ink and paper for your clients- some things that are very expensive and precious to the people visiting your site. The pretty color headings, checkmarks, etc. are really unnecessary.
- Your website was very helpful. I was only interested in the health care. you gave me your opinion that I wasn't qualified for health care benefits and prescriptions.
- Thanks
- This was very helpful and user friendly. Thank you.
- This questionnaire does not determine if a person is self-employed or a farmer for BadgerCare Plus.
- This is a very easy program to use. The directions were very clear and the format was user-friendly.

- In these very difficult times, I think this website has been very helpful.
- While I think the Wisconsin program for health care and Drug Assistance can relieve many dollars for living purposes, what are the consequences of dropping my current health & drug plans? This was not explained.
- I currently live in Section 8 housing thru the Federal Government & get extra assistance in Medicare D programs. The website does not describe WHY I should change over. I would like more information on this.
- In my mind, this would be a good move, but dropping plans that are over 6 years old, scares me. They have been fine at paying my meger bills. At 71, I know more high cost consequences will accrue. How do I make that descison???
- Got more info from this service than my case worker. Thanks
- The program never asks about investment income, income from interest & dividends. Nor does it ask about income from gains on sale of stock.
- I think my family will living in our car, homeless within a few weeks. Thats what I think.
- very informative Thank you
- i like your program but it is false because on here you say i am eliable to get between 60 - 100 in food share well no i get 14.00 so whats up with that
- Thanks, easy to use. Web links bad tho. LD
- This site was very helpful. Thanks for having it!!
- Very easy to use.
- Very, very helpful. Thank you.
- I think that this is a wonderful tool.
- this is nice but if my papper work gets lost in the system i will not be in my home and my child will be home less i have applied for this in the past and all my paper work has been lost so i am starting over with this i have also put my mother as a person to contact on the app. so there is a paper trail a mile long with her printing each and every page in clueding this

- the site was very helpfull--thanks
- Very nice tool to use fast and easily to give an idea of what you may qualify for.
- It was an easy to use website, but you didn't ask about school. Is anyone enrolled? Did they get the money from student loans? How else are they paying for education? Have you applied for or in the process of applying for SSDI, SSI? How much is your heating bill each month? How much is your food costs each month? Do you help financially support anyone living outside your home, like grand children and how much do you spend to help clothe, feed and sustain them each month? Theses are all added expenses that no one thinks about, however they do effect the amount of money coming in vs. the amount going out. Do You feed or prepare meals in your home to help someone living outside your home so that they can eat? I will pass this info on to people as this was a good start for programs I did not know were available. Thank you
- Wow! Very easy to use assessment and clear answers. We will be applying in several weeks.
- Good program! It made it MUCH easier to get information on programs available to me. Thank you!
- The FAQ message from my local Brown County office says that I could go to Access to see if I was qualified for childcare assistance. There is no where I could find that I can see if I am eligible now that I have reduced hours.
- Please update one or both of the sites.
- i love it
- I live with another person, but we buy food and cook separate.
- I think this screening toll is fabulous! Great job Wisconsin!
- I'm not sure I like the way this current process works! I am trying to find health coverage for my unemployed son, as I can no longer carry him as a dependant on mine any longer. This exercise did nothing to get me there except that he is probably ineligible due to my income alone! I will have to go back to the beginning to apply for other options, if available. I think this "exercise" was pretty much pointless and people need to be better directed to where they really need to be and not waste time answering personal questions that they don't need to or have to answer again.
- even though i am in the age range and have no income for getting help with medical assistance, i am only able to get help with family planning so only birth control and no other medical bills b/c i do still live at home with a parent that does not help with my bills that i accure. How unfair is that to us that has or can not afford health insurance and cant even get help with medical bills from the state.
- Excellent/Easy to use. I wish that the WI DOR would talk to whoever designed this.
