Advance Your Career in Health Care

WisCaregiver Careers is more than a pathway to becoming a Certified Nurse Aide (CNA). It's the first step toward a rewarding career in health care. More than 200 participating employers across Wisconsin are looking to hire compassionate individuals who want to earn while they learn through paid, employer-sponsored CNA training. After becoming certified and remaining employed for six months, eligible participants receive a $500 retention bonus.

Working as a CNA provides valuable hands-on experience and builds the knowledge, confidence, and skills needed to grow within the health care field. As demand for health care professionals continues to grow, a CNA is an excellent foundation for long-term career advancement.

Many CNAs continue their education to become a Medication Aide, Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN), Registered Nurse (RN), or Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN). Others pursue careers in leadership, administration, and management within long-term care communities or explore opportunities across the broader health care industry.
