EXPANDED SCOPE OF PRACTICE FOR OUTPATIENT BEHAVIORAL HEALTH PROVIDERS

As a result of 2017 Wisconsin Act 262, which made a number of changes to substance use disorder counseling statutes and administrative rules, ForwardHealth has revised provider specialties to reflect changes in the scopes of practice for certain behavioral health providers. Effective August 1, 2020, licensed psychotherapists will be allowed to provide both mental health and substance use disorder treatment services.

Act 262 broadened the scope of practice for licensed clinical social workers (LCSWs), licensed marriage and family therapists (LMFT), licensed marriage and family therapists in training (LMFT-IT), licensed professional counselors (LPCs), and licensed professional counselors in training (LPC-IT). This change allows these providers to offer both mental health and substance use disorder treatment services without obtaining a separate substance use disorder specialty or substance abuse counselor (SAC)/clinical substance abuse counselor (CSAC) certification from the Wisconsin Department of Safety and Professional Services. This ForwardHealth Update explains the changes

Licensed Psychotherapist Scope of Practice and Name Changes

ForwardHealth will allow all licensed psychotherapists enrolled in Wisconsin Medicaid to provide both mental health and substance use disorder treatment services.

There will no longer be a distinction between licensed psychotherapists and licensed psychotherapists with SAC certification. These providers will now be enrolled as a single specialty: licensed psychotherapist. LCSWs, LMFTs, and LPCs with the SAC/CSAC certification may continue to render and bill for both mental health and substance use disorder treatment services. LCSWs, LMFTs, and LPCs who do not have a SAC/CSAC certification will now be able to render both mental health and substance use disorder treatment services as well. Providers currently enrolled with Wisconsin Medicaid will not be required to take any action for these changes to be in effect.

Because SAC/CSAC certification is no longer required for these licensure types, ForwardHealth has removed SAC/CSAC from the provider title to align with Act 262 and eliminate confusion.

the qualified treatment trainees (QTTs) provider enrollment specialty. Act 262 broadened the scope of practice for LMFT-IT and LPC-IT, allowing them to render both mental health and substance use disorder services. However, Act 262 included continued requirements for APSWs and ISWs to obtain a substance abuse specialty designation in order to render substance use disorder services.

To align with these changes to the scope of practice, effective August 1, 2020, ForwardHealth will allow only providers with LMFT-IT and LPC-IT credentials to enroll as QTTs. These providers will be allowed to render both mental health and substance use disorder services under required supervision. LMFT-IT and LPC-IT providers currently enrolled as QTTs with Wisconsin Medicaid will not be required to take any action for these changes to be in effect.

Effective August 1, 2020, ForwardHealth will allow providers with APSW or ISW credentials to enroll only as certified psychotherapists or certified psychotherapists with substance abuse specialty, depending on their certifications. Both specialties will be allowed to render mental health services, but only enrolled certified psychotherapists with a SAC, SAC in Training, or substance abuse specialty designation will be allowed to render substance use disorder services. After obtaining an LCSW license, these providers may enroll as licensed psychotherapists. APSW and ISW providers currently enrolled as QTTs with Wisconsin Medicaid should update their enrollment to certified psychotherapist or certified psychotherapist with SAC.
