

Federal Medical Assistance Percentages (FMAP) by Quarter

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services uses these percentages to determine the amount of federal matching for State Medicaid programs. These apply to State expenditures for most medical services and medical insurance services, and assistance payments for certain social services. Recalculations resulting from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) are reflected.

Note: Separate federal matching percentages are developed for administrative costs, the Children's Health Insurance Program under Title XXI, and medical assistance expenditures for certain children in the Medicaid program.
