For example: You start a new job on August 1 that pays more than what you are making now, and there are three people getting FoodShare benefits in your household. If your household's total monthly gross income* in August is more than your income reporting limit of $2,798, you must report the change to your FoodShare worker by September 10. You can also find the amount you are required to report on your latest enrollment letter.

*Total monthly gross income means the total amount of income received by everyone in your household in a month before deductions, such as taxes and withholdings.

October 1, 2024, to September 30, 2025, Monthly Income Reporting Limit*

Household Size	Monthly Income Limit	Household Size	Monthly Income Limit

You may continue to report other changes, such as change of address, a marriage, persons moving in or out of your household, or decreases in your monthly income; however, you are not required to do so. Should you choose to report these changes, contact your agency.

Do you expect that the changes reported on this form will remain the same next month? Yes No
 If no, explain below.

Expenses

I understand that expenses I report, such as shelter, utility, child care, child support, or medical costs, may affect the level of FoodShare benefits my household receives. I understand that failure to report or verify an expense means that I do not want to receive a deduction for this expense.

Income Reduction

I understand that I am not required to report a reduction or loss of income; however, I may be entitled to a higher FoodShare benefit if I do. I understand that as long as I do not report a reduction in my household's monthly income or the loss of any household income, I will not receive any resulting increase in my FoodShare benefit.

FOODSHARE PENALTY WARNING

Any member of your household who intentionally breaks any of the following rules can be stopped from getting FoodShare for 12 months after the first violation, 24 months after the second violation or for a first violation involving a controlled substance, and permanently for the third violation:

- Giving false information or hiding information to get or continue FoodShare benefits.
- Trading, selling, or altering FoodShare benefits.
- Using FoodShare benefits to buy nonfood items, like alcohol or tobacco.
- Using another person's FoodShare benefits, identification cards, or other documentation.

Depending upon the value of misused benefits, the individual can also be fined up to $250,000, imprisoned up to 20 years, or both. A court can also stop you from getting FoodShare for an additional 18 months. You will also be permanently disqualified if you are convicted of trafficking FoodShare benefits of $500 or more. You will not be able to take part in FoodShare for 10 years if you are found to have made a false statement or representation with respect to identity and residence in order to get multiple benefits at the same time. Fleeing felons and probation/parole violators are not able to get FoodShare. You may also be subject to further prosecution under other applicable federal laws.

If you trade (buy or sell) FoodShare benefits for a controlled substance/illegal drugs, you will not get FoodShare benefits for a period of two years for the first finding and permanently for the second finding. If you trade (buy or sell) firearms, ammunition, or explosives, you will be denied from FoodShare benefits permanently.
