Baseline for Measurement

This initiative builds on previous strategies implemented with 2 new gardens to be developed in 2015.

Context

Describe why this objective was chosen and the expected outcome measure(s).

This objective was chosen to build on existing and/or, create new partnerships to plan and implement initiatives for the prevention and management of obesity in children and adolescents.

In 2014, 14 new gardens were developed through prevention funding and there was continued interest to develop additional gardens.

In 2012, a prevention funded strategy helped to sustain the Waupaca Eating Smart (WES) program which makes it easier for consumers to make healthier choices at area restaurants and food stores. The strategy resulted in the majority of the businesses (6 restaurants and 1 food store) maintaining some form of promotion of healthy foods. In 2015, 1 new restaurant will agree to make changes resulting in making it easier for consumers to make healthier choices. The strategies are either evidence based, best practices, or promising practices, and will look at affecting environmental and/or policy change.

Context Continued

Input Activities

CDC strongly encourages Preventive Health and Health Services Block Grant funds be used only on evidence based strategies, best practices or promising practices. Describe the strategies/practices to be used and identify the associated web links as available.

Based on the positive outcomes from previous years and the continued interest in the community to pursue strategies that will not only help to prevent and manage obesity in children and adolescents, but also improve the nutrition environment. The NuAct Coalition proposes to implement 2 strategies: 1) improve access to fruits and vegetables, and 2) promote healthier food choices in area restaurants and food stores. Specific strategies to develop new, and enhance current, community/school gardens, and to strengthen community partnerships to promote healthy food choices in area businesses will be undertaken.
