

Board for Evaluation of Interpreters (BEI) Information Sessions

What will I learn?

- The history of the BEI
- The format of the performance assessments and the Test of English Proficiency (TEP)
- A detailed explanation of the rating process and scoring systems

How do I sign up?

No registration required. The Office for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (ODHH) is offering these sessions at no cost, and anyone who is interested is encouraged to join.

How do I participate?

This training can only be viewed remotely.

Two dates to choose from:

March 20, 2020
1-5 p.m.

Access this training remotely

March 21, 2020
9 a.m.-1 p.m.

Access this training remotely

Please note the time change for Saturday. We are no longer able to offer the mock TEP and performance assessments.

These BEI information sessions are hosted by ODHH and led by Lauri Metcalf. Lauri has been involved with the BEI since 1995 and was its chair during the development of the certification tests. She continues to work closely with the BEI in a variety of roles.

American Sign Language (ASL) interpreters and real-time captions will be provided. If you need another kind of accommodation, contact Chantel Wiedmeyer.

Continuing education units (CEUs) will be provided.