YOU WOULD DO ANYTHING TO PROTECT YOUR BABY.

PROTECT THEM THIS FLU SEASON BY GETTING YOUR FLU SHOT.

Newborn babies are at high risk of getting the flu and are too young to get the flu shot. Getting the flu shot when you are pregnant protects you from the flu and your newborn baby will be protected from the flu for several months after birth.

WHO CAN YOU PROTECT?

For information on where you can get a flu shot, visit www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/influenza