

Thank You for Protecting Your Employees and Community

Help Turn the Dial and Open Wisconsin Back Up

- You can protect your employees, community, and business by encouraging your employees to get tested and working with public health to create a safe work environment.
- Testing ensures that your business can stop early outbreaks and save lives.
- Providing your employees with free COVID-19 testing is a step forward in helping Wisconsin find the virus and box it in.

Did You Know?

- People with COVID-19 may not always show symptoms, but they can still give the virus to their fellow coworkers.
- COVID-19 does not discriminate. Working with public health experts means you are doing everything you can to protect your employees and communities.

How Can I Protect My Business and Employees?

- Implement physical distancing practices.
- Promote hand washing.
- Provide appropriate personal protective equipment and cleaning supplies for work spaces.
- Promote working from home, if possible.
- Make sure workers stay home when they are sick.
- Support flexible sick leave.
- Find best practices by visiting the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) website on guidance for businesses.

Resources

- Wisconsin's response to COVID-19: www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/covid-19/index.htm
- COVID-19 Symptoms: www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/covid-19/symptoms.htm
- COVID-19 Guidance for Businesses: www.wedc.org/reopen-guidelines
- Badger Bounce Back Plan: www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/covid-19/prepare.htm

Widespread testing is the key to boxing in COVID-19 and opening up our state. Let's help Wisconsin turn the dial and supercharge the Badger Bounce Back!

Together, we all can stop the spread and save lives.

