

Recently diagnosed with a sexually transmitted infection (STI)?

Remember to test again in three months!

Why should you get retested?

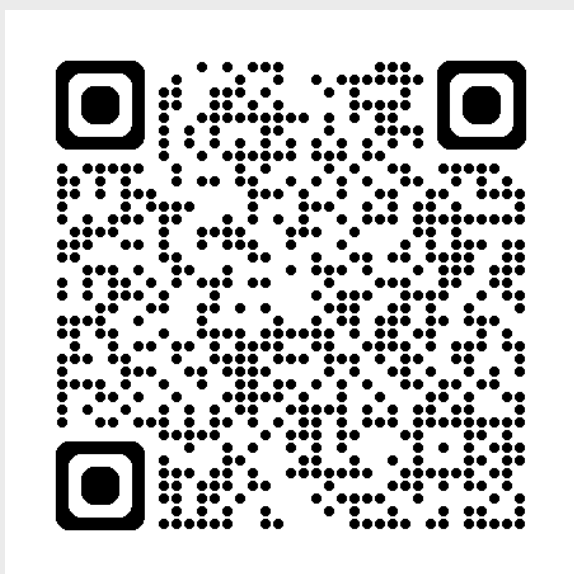

It is common to get infected again with chlamydia or gonorrhea soon after your first infection.

Often, there are no symptoms so you may not know if you have an infection.

Getting another infection may cause more serious health problems in the future.

Scan the QR code to learn more about STI prevention and treatment.

Make an appointment with your provider today for a retest!

WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT of HEALTH SERVICES