

Wisconsin's Viral Hepatitis Elimination Plan (2025-2030)

Overview of Populations and Areas of Focus

Wisconsin's Viral Hepatitis Elimination Plan aims to eliminate viral hepatitis in the state of Wisconsin. The plan was developed in collaboration with partners across the state and will guide Wisconsin's efforts to improve testing, vaccination, and treatment of hepatitis A, B, and C.

Populations of focus

Viral hepatitis disproportionately affects some groups of people. Wisconsin is prioritizing hepatitis elimination efforts among these groups.

Justice-involved people

Pregnant people and perinatal populations

Rural residents

Native communities

Immigrant and refugee communities

People who use drugs

Areas of focus and objectives

Data and surveillance

Create and distribute annual reports

Identify additional ways to better monitor disease trends

Improve laboratory reporting and partnerships with health systems

Awareness, education, and resources

Provide trainings on viral hepatitis

Create educational materials

Collaborate with community partners to strengthen engagement with priority populations

Clinical strategies

Develop clinical strategies to prevent, identify, and treat infections among pediatric and adult populations

Work with jails and prisons to provide testing, education, and treatment

