REPORTING INSTRUCTIONS:

The Elderly Benefit Specialist program (EBS) helps people aged 60 and older to understand and resolve issues related to public and private benefits and other civil legal matters. Lay advocates called elder benefit specialists are located in each county and tribal service area. Wis Stat. 46.81 defines and establishes funding for benefit specialists in aging units. This CARS profile is to be used by the Area Agency on Aging to report contracted aging unit EBS expenditures for those aging units who do not have an agreement with an ADRC to provide EBS services at the ADRC and who do not 100% time report EBS activities.
